

Algebra

By Serge Lang

From FOREWORD:

As I see it, the graduate course in algebra must primarily prepare students to handle the algebra which they will meet in all of mathematics: topology, partial differential equations, differential geometry, algebraic geometry, analysis, and representation theory, not to speak of algebra itself and algebraic number theory with all its ramifications.